It is important that you review this document carefully, as it forms part of the Grant Agreement.

The Canada-Alberta Job Grant (CAJG) is an employer-driven program that helps employers invest in training for their current and future employees. The goals of the CAJG are to increase participation of Albertans in the labour force by helping them develop the skills they need to find and keep a job. The CAJG is also an opportunity for employers to invest in training that is better aligned to job opportunities.

Applications will be assessed on a first come, first served basis, with the exception of applications for unemployed trainees, which will be assessed on a priority basis. Meeting eligibility criteria does not guarantee funding approval. Approval of applications does not constitute an endorsement of any training provider or particular training course(s). previous approval of an employer or training provider does not guarantee approval in the future. All applications are assessed based on information provided in the application at the time.

All decisions regarding the eligibility of employers, trainees, training providers, training courses and reimbursable costs will be made by the Ministry of Labour (“Ministry”) at the Ministry's sole discretion.

The Ministry reserves the right to contact employers, trainees, trainers or any other person in order to substantiate reimbursement claims, training activities, records or other related matters.

CAJG applications are assessed using the following eligibility criteria. Applications require a minimum of 30 days processing time. Applications for unemployed trainees will be given priority.

| Employers must have a job available in Alberta for the trainee at the end of training. | Employers must intend to hire or continue to employ trainees upon completion of the training. |
Eligible Trainees

Eligible trainees must be:

- Employed Trainees, defined as:
  - Trainees currently employed by the employer; or
  - Trainees that have been unemployed for 30 days or less, prior to being hired.

- Unemployed Trainees, defined as:
  - Trainees that have been unemployed for more than 30 consecutive days; or
  - New hires who have worked for the employer for 4 weeks or less and were previously unemployed for more than 30 consecutive days.

- Canadian citizens, permanent residents or persons protected under the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act (Canada), who are legally allowed to work in Canada; and

- Living in Alberta.

The following persons are not eligible trainees:

- Company owners (such as shareholders of a corporation) and any member of the employer’s board or council;

- Participants who are immediate family of the company owner (includes, but is not limited to spouse, common-law partner, adult interdependent partner, child (biological, step, adopted), parent, sibling,);

- Temporary Foreign Workers, or anyone temporarily working in Canada;

- Any person who will not be employed by the employer once the training is completed; or

- Any person who is not living in Alberta.

Sometimes an employer may need to send a different trainee to attend training after the CAJG application form has been submitted. Please ensure the substituted trainee meets all eligibility requirements, then contact the Canada Alberta Job Grant processing centre by email at jobgrant@gov.ab.ca for further instructions.

Unemployed Trainees

The employer must submit one of the following:

- Conditional offer of employment; or

- Letter of employment.

The trainee must submit one of the following documents as proof of unemployment:

- Recent Record of Employment; or

- Itemized statement of Employment Insurance (EI) benefits claimed in a calendar year.

Where an unemployed person has been out of the labour force for a significant period of time and does not have any of the above proof of unemployment, please contact the CAJG program at: 780-638-9424 (within Edmonton) or 1-855-638-9424 (in Alberta).

A temporary laid off individual as set out in Sections 62-63 of the Alberta Employment Standards Code is not included in the definition of an Unemployed Trainee.

Seasonal employees are not eligible under the unemployed stream.

If you are hiring an individual who meets the definition of unemployed, you must complete the CAJG application form for Unemployed Trainees.

Example of an Unemployed Trainee: Amy, who had been unemployed for the past 6 weeks, was hired by an IT company. Two weeks later, her employer decided to use a new design program and had to send Amy for training. By applying to the CAJG program, the company was reimbursed 100% for Amy’s training costs, to a maximum of $15,000.

Eligible trainees can obtain their Record of Employment or itemized statement through the following methods:

- By telephone through the EI Telephone Information Service at 1-800-206-7218 (TTY: 1-800-529-3742)

Seasonal jobs provide temporary work that is expected to last only until the end of a season – the period for which services are in demand. Seasonal workers are individuals who face annual spells of unemployment because of regular fluctuations in demand for their set of skills and experience. Seasonal employees are eligible under the CAJG application for Employed Trainees.

Eligible Training

Employed Trainees

The CAJG is intended to support incremental training (training that is in addition to existing training and would not take place without the grant).

Employers must declare that the requested training is in addition to training they would normally provide their staff.

Unemployed Trainees

Employers training unemployed trainees do not need to meet the incremental training requirement.

Training must be relevant to the current operational needs of the business and the available job, and includes the following:

- Training to improve the performance of existing or new employees in current or new roles.
- Pre-apprenticeship training.
- High school completion courses.

To determine if the requested training is incremental, the employer must answer the following questions on the Employed Trainee application form:

1. Will this training take place without Canada-Alberta Job Grant funding?
2. Has the training already been paid for?
3. Has the training already started?

If the employer answers yes to any of these questions, the training is not incremental and not eligible for CAJG funding.

Training must result in skills development and be directly connected to employment. Training that is for personal interest is not eligible.

Apprenticeship training courses are not eligible under the CAJG.

The CAJG is not a bursary program and is not intended to fund full degree or diploma programs. If a trainee is taking a course or courses as part of a degree, diploma or certificate program,
Post-secondary courses that lead to a degree or diploma are eligible, if the course(s) is/are relevant to the current needs of the business and the available job. Please provide the name of each individual course, not the program name.

The CAJG will not fund the same or substantially the same training previously approved under the grant.

A portion of conferences costs may be eligible where it is specifically focused on skills training and the fee can be specifically tied to the skills training.

Training multiple employees

If trainees are taking the same training/dates, they may go on the same application unless they are different types of trainees (employed vs. unemployed). Please ensure that unemployed trainees are on the Application for Unemployed Trainees form.

If courses, dates, or trainee types are different, separate application forms will be required.

List each course separately on the application using the “add training” button.

Example:

Four trainees are taking the same three accounting courses and are enrolled in the same computer skills course on the same dates. Given that all trainees are taking the same training courses, the employer needs to complete only one application for all trainees.

If multiple trainees are taking different training courses, separate applications are required for each trainee.

Example:

- Two trainees are taking a leadership development course, and three trainees are taking a series of accounting courses. Two applications are required.
- An existing employee is taking a software training course and an unemployed individual is taking the same software training course. In this case, two different applications need to be submitted.

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Eligible Training Providers</th>
<th></th>
</tr>

</table>

Third party training providers

Training must be delivered by an accepted third-party training provider, as defined below:

- The training provider must be separate and distinct from the employer.
  - The employer must attest to this as part of the application process.
- Training must be a main business activity of the training provider.
  - Qualified instructors should have relevant education and experience directly related to the type of training.
  - Training rates and course descriptions must be posted online and remain stable.
  - A satisfactory Course Outline must be accessible online.

Course Outlines must include a breakdown of the following:

- A description of the training course objectives.
- Course structure including:
  - Description of each module of the course with instructional hours and intended learning outcomes.
  - Description as to how participant(s) will receive instruction (e.g. online, etc.) for each module.
- Description of how participant’s learning will be assessed/evaluated.
- Total training duration/length.
- Total training hours.
- Total cost of the course(s) per person.
- Name of instructor.

Franchisers and training providers exclusive to one employer are not eligible.
Eligible training costs include:

- tuition fees or instructional fees charged by the training provider
- mandatory student fees
- textbooks or software
- examinations fees
- other required materials (supplies directly relevant to the training course undertaken and are distinct from materials required to run your business)
- approved travel costs (refer to Appendix A) for participant and trainers (outside of Edmonton and Calgary) when training is over 100km one way for small and medium-sized organizations

The Province must be satisfied that the costs of the training are reasonable.

Ineligible training costs include, but are not limited to:

- travel (except as per criteria in Appendix A)
- recreation/fitness fees
- health care fees/premiums
- child care costs
- living allowances

Eligible travel costs will be funded as outlined in Appendix A.

Unemployed Trainees

Appendix A: CAJG Travel Policy and Reimbursement Rates
All travel reimbursements are included towards employer and trainee funding caps.

The CAJG program will only fund travel costs in the following circumstances:

- a small- or medium-sized business (located outside of Edmonton and Calgary) is training their current and/or future employees; and
- the training is taking place in Alberta and being delivered by an Alberta training provider; and
- the training provider hired must travel 100km or greater one way, from their workplace to the training site (located outside of Edmonton and Calgary), to deliver the training; or
- the employee(s) sent for training must travel 100km or greater one way, from their workplace (located outside of Edmonton and Calgary) to the training site, to receive the training.

The CAJG will provide assistance with transportation, accommodation and meal costs for a maximum of 5 training course days at the rates shown in the table below, for eligible trainees and a maximum of two trainers.

Approval of travel costs at the application stage does not guarantee full reimbursement of travel costs. Travel costs will be reviewed once an employer has submitted their reimbursement claim. The Ministry reserves the right to determine at reimbursement whether travel costs are eligible and reasonable in relation to the cost of training or for any other reason. Travel costs will not be funded if not pre-approved and included in the CAJG Application.

All travel costs must align with training dates and any travel costs outside of approved training dates are not eligible. Where travel is for a partial day, only meals that are applicable to that portion of the day may be claimed. For instance, for training that starts the next morning, dinner only may be claimed on the travel day. Where a meal is provided without charge, no claim for that meal can be made.

Eligible trainers must provide a breakdown of their training costs and travel costs on their training with a quote or unpaid invoice on the Application Form.
Employee travel receipts are not required when submitting a reimbursement claim. However, under the Grant Agreement, employers must maintain full, accurate and complete financial records of all training activities and expenditures for a period of two years. Audits may occur at the Ministry’s discretion.
