Information on flights with confirmed cases of COVID-19

Passengers in affected seats are directed to self-isolate for 14 days and monitor for symptoms

As more flights confirm passengers with COVID-19, Albertans should monitor their air travel even if it was limited to within Canada. The flights below have been found to have a passenger confirmed to have COVID-19. Passengers in the affected seats of these flights are considered close contacts and are at risk of exposure. Public health officials recommend individuals in affected seats self-isolate for 14 days after arrival in Canada and monitor for symptoms. Other passengers are not required to self-isolate but should self-monitor for 14 days after arrival in Canada. If symptoms occur, please complete an online COVID-19 self-assessment. This document will be updated with new information about affected flights as we receive it.

Note: all travellers returning from outside of Canada after March 12 are asked to self-isolate for 14 days, regardless of whether they were on a flight with a known COVID-19 case.
