Grade 6 English Language Arts Provincial Achievement Test

General description

The Grade 6 English Language Arts Provincial Achievement Test is composed of two parts—Part A: Writing and Part B: Reading, each worth 50% of the test total.

Part A: Writing

Part A: Writing consists of two writing assignments—one narrative and one functional—developed to be completed in 2 hours; however, students may have up to 4 hours to complete the test should they need it. For the first 10 minutes of the 2 hours, students may discuss both assignments with classmates in groups of two to four or think alone about the prompts. Students will engage in this discussion time without teacher participation. During this discussion time, students may record their ideas on the planning pages provided. The allotted test time provides students with time for planning, drafting, and revising both the narrative and functional writing assignments. Students may take up to 4 hours to complete the test.

Those students for whom a dictionary or thesaurus is a familiar reference tool are encouraged, but not required, to use a dictionary or thesaurus during the editing phase of their writing. However, excessive use of a dictionary throughout the test may interfere with a student’s ability to complete his or her writing.

Students may use print versions of commercially published dictionaries, bilingual dictionaries, picture dictionaries, and a commercially published thesaurus when completing Part A only.

Students may do their writing using a computer. For information about using word-processing technology to complete the written components of the achievement test, see the General Information Bulletin.

Part B: Reading

Part B: Reading (multiple choice) is developed to be completed in 60 minutes; however, students may take up to 2 hours to complete the test should they need it. The test consists of 50 multiple-choice questions based on reading selections from fiction, nonfiction, poetry, and visual media. Students record their answers on a tear-out, machine-scorable answer sheet.

Students may not use a dictionary, a thesaurus, or other reference materials when completing Part B: Reading.

If a word that warrants definition is used on a test, it will be defined on the page on which it appears.
Description of Grade 6 English Language Arts provincial assessment standards

The following statements describe what is expected of Grade 6 students at the acceptable standard and the standard of excellence, based on outcomes in the Grade 6 English Language Arts Program of Studies. These statements represent examples of the standards against which student achievement is measured. It is important to remember that one test cannot measure all the outcomes in the Grade 6 English Language Arts Program of Studies.

<td>• readily answer literal as well as implied idea, detail, and relationship questions</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Part A: Writing

Section I of Part A: Writing consists of a picture prompt that students are asked to respond to in the form of a story.

Section II of Part A: Writing requires students to write for a specific audience and to fulfill a specified purpose within a given context. The functional writing assignment requires students to write a news article.

For both sections of Part A: Writing, students will be able to remove the writing prompts from the writing booklet and keep the prompts in front of them while they plan and write. Each section includes a page labelled Planning and lined pages for the students’ writing. Students are asked to produce only one copy of their work. They are encouraged to make revisions and corrections directly on this copy. Because of the limited testing time, it is felt that students benefit most from spending their time composing and revising their work rather than from perfecting a “good copy.”

Important reminders

In order to facilitate valid and fair marking for all students during the July marking session, it is important that teachers

- have students plan their writing only on the page provided in the booklet
- follow the procedures for scribing papers, as outlined in the General Information Bulletin
- follow the procedures regarding classroom materials, as outlined in the General Information Bulletin
- not write anything in the booklets; for example, marks and rationales awarded at the school, spelling corrections, or interpretations of words and/or sentences written by their students

Students whose writing is unrelated to the task presented in Part A: Section II—Functional Writing will be awarded a score of Insufficient.
Blueprint for Part A: Section I—Narrative Writing

Local marking

Before returning the tests to Alberta Education, classroom teachers will be able to mark students’ writing using the scoring guides contained in this bulletin, or those that are provided in the 2022 Scoring Guide, Exemplars, and Rationales that are delivered with the test. All papers will be marked centrally in Edmonton in July.

Locally awarded marks submitted to Alberta Education will be used as the first reading of a student’s response. Local markers are to use the “For Teacher Use Only” section on the back of the Part A: Writing test booklet to record their marks by filling in the appropriate circles. The “School Code” and “ACCOMMODATIONS USED” sections should also be completed (see accommodations in the General Information Bulletin for more information). If a teacher wants to know how their locally awarded marks compare with the marks that the tests received when marked centrally, then they must create a three-digit identification number and enter it in the section labelled “ID No.” It is important that no two teachers from the same school use the same identification number. To facilitate fair and valid assessment of all students during both local and central marking, teachers must not mark or write in student booklets. Teacher-created scoring sheets, which may be used during local marking, are not to be included in student test booklets.

Teachers have approximately one week to return the tests to Alberta Education. The papers will then be marked centrally by Alberta Education as the second reading. Both marks contribute to the student’s final mark. In the case of a discrepancy between the two marks, papers will be adjudicated by a third reading, which will determine the final mark that the paper is awarded. In this way, valid and reliable individual and group results can be reported.

Papers that are not marked locally by teachers will be marked centrally only once. At least once a day, all markers mark a copy of the same paper for inter-rater reliability. After central marking has been completed and school reports have been sent to the respective schools, teachers who submitted their marks with an identification number will receive a confidential report on their marking. This report is called the Local Marker Report and includes the locally awarded mark, the centrally awarded mark, a third-read mark if applicable, and the final mark.

To assess locally those students with special test-writing needs, specifically a scribed response (test accommodation 5) or a taped response (test accommodation 10), teachers are to refrain from scoring Conventions for Assignment I: Narrative Writing and Content Management for Assignment II: Functional Writing.

To support local marking, Alberta Education will provide samples of student writing that exemplify the scoring criteria with the test materials. These exemplars are not to be shared with students and must be returned to Alberta Education with the tests. Throughout the school year, teachers can refer to Examples of the Standards for Students’ Writing on the Alberta Education website under Provincial Achievement Tests. Writing by Grade 6 students, along with scoring criteria, is posted at this location. Teachers can also access the rubrics used to assess Grade 6 English Language Arts writing under Scoring Guides.

A total score for a student’s writing may be calculated by following the procedure on the next page.
Calculating local marks
To determine a student's mark, convert the word descriptors to the following numeric values:

Excellent = 5
Proficient = 4
Satisfactory = 3
Limited = 2
Poor = 1

Use the following information to assign the score for each student's test.

Narrative Writing
Assign a score of 1 to 5 for each of Content, Organization, Sentence Structure, Vocabulary, and Conventions.
Multiply the scores for Content and Organization by 2 as these categories are worth twice as much as the other categories.
Maximum score possible for Narrative Writing = 35

Functional Writing
Assign a score of 1 to 5 for each of Content and Content Management.
Multiply these scores by 2.
Maximum score possible for Functional Writing = 20

Total Part A: Writing score
Add the Narrative Writing and Functional Writing scores.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Total score for Part A: Writing</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Narrative Writing ___/35 (63.6%)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>+ Functional Writing ___/20 (36.4%)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>= Total score ___/55 (100%)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The mark for Part A: Writing is worth 50% of the total mark for English Language Arts.

Teachers may make a photocopy of a student's writing from the English Language Arts Part A: Writing test for inclusion in a portfolio of the year's work. Copies can also be made for parents who request them.
Information for teachers participating in central marking

Provincial Assessment will contact superintendents in the spring for their nomination of markers. The teachers selected will reflect proportional representation from the various regions of Alberta.

To qualify for nomination by a superintendent, a prospective marker must satisfy the following conditions:

- have a valid permanent Alberta Professional Teaching Certificate
- have taught the course within the past three years
- be currently employed by a school authority or private school
- be available on all scheduled days

Markers will be contacted in May, and the list of markers will be finalized no later than the middle of June. Group leaders will meet the day before the marking session for training.

Each year, many more teachers are nominated to mark than are needed. There must be a balance of first-time and experienced markers; and include regional representation by zone, school authority, and school. Unfortunately, not everyone whose name is submitted is selected.

Because the time allotted for marking is limited, markers are often asked to mark on Saturday and Sunday. The marking floor is open from 8:15 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., and markers are expected to be available to mark during those hours.
Scoring Guides—Narrative Writing

Content

When marking Content appropriate for Grade 6 narrative writing, the marker should consider how effectively the writer

- establishes a context
- uses ideas and/or events that are appropriate for the established context
- uses specific details (of characters, setting, actions, events, etc.)

Excellent

- The context is clearly established and consistent.
- The ideas and/or events are creative and deliberately chosen for the context established.
- Supporting details are precise and consistently effective.
- The writing is confident and/or creative and holds the reader’s interest.

Proficient

Pf

- The context is clearly established and appropriate.
- The ideas and/or events are intentionally chosen for the context established.
- Supporting details are specific and generally effective.
- The writing is purposeful and draws the reader’s interest.

Satisfactory

- The context is established and generally appropriate.
- The ideas and/or events are adequate for the context established.
- Supporting details are general and may be predictable.
- The writing is straightforward and generally holds the reader’s interest.

Limited

L

- The context is vaguely established and/or may not be appropriate.
- The ideas and/or events are vague given the context established.
- Supporting details are few and/or may be repetitive.
- The writing is superficial and does not hold the reader’s interest.

Poor

- The context may be unclear and/or inappropriate.
- The ideas and/or events are undeveloped and/or unrelated to any context established.
- Supporting details are scant.
- The writing is confusing and/or frustrating for the reader.

Insufficient

INS

- The marker can discern no evidence of an attempt to fulfill the assignment, or the student has written so little that it is not possible to assess Content.

Note: Content and Organization are weighted to be worth twice as much as the other scoring categories.
Organization

When marking Organization appropriate for Grade 6 narrative writing, the marker should consider how effectively the writer

- introduces the response
- follows a coherent order
- establishes connections and/or relationships among events, actions, details, and/or characters
- brings closure to the writing

| Excellent E | • The introduction is purposeful, interesting, and effectively establishes events, characters, and/or setting, and provides direction for the writing.
• Events and/or details are developed in paragraphs, in a purposeful and effective order, and coherence is maintained.
• Connections and/or relationships among events, actions, details, and/or characters are consistently maintained.
• The ending ties events and/or actions together. |
|---|---|
| Proficient Pf | • The introduction clearly establishes events, characters, and/or setting, and provides direction for the writing.
• Events and/or details are developed in paragraphs, in a purposeful order, and coherence is generally maintained.
• Connections and/or relationships among events, actions, details, and/or characters are maintained.
• The ending provides an appropriate finish for events and/or actions. |
| Satisfactory S | • The introduction directly presents information about events, characters, and/or setting.
• Events and/or details are developed in a discernible order, although coherence may falter occasionally.
• Connections and/or relationships among events, actions, details, and/or characters are generally maintained.
• The ending is predictable and/or contrived and is connected to events and/or actions. |
| Limited L | • The introduction presents information about events, characters, and/or setting but lacks direction.
• The development of events and/or details is not clearly discernible, and coherence falters frequently.
• Connections and/or relationships among events, actions, details, and/or characters are unclear and/or inconsistent or missing.
• The ending is predictable and/or contrived and may not be connected to events and/or actions. |
| Poor P | • The introduction provides little information and/or is ineffective.
• The development of events and/or details is haphazard and incoherent.
• Connections and/or relationships among events, actions, details, and/or characters are missing.
• The ending, if present, is unconnected to the events and/or actions. |
| Insufficient INS | • The writing has been awarded an INS for Content. |

Note: Content and Organization are weighted to be worth twice as much as the other scoring categories.
Sentence Structure

When marking Sentence Structure appropriate for Grade 6 narrative writing, the marker should consider

- writer’s control of sentence structure
- effectiveness and variety of sentence type and sentence length
- variety of sentence beginnings

Length and complexity of response must be considered.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>

</table>
Vocabulary

When marking Vocabulary appropriate for Grade 6 narrative writing, the marker should consider the extent to which the writer uses

- words and expressions accurately
- words and expressions effectively
- words and expressions to enhance the student’s voice

Length and complexity of response must be considered.

| Excellent (E) | • Words and expressions are used accurately.
|              | • Precise words and expressions are used to create vivid images and/or to enrich details.
|              | • Words and expressions are used to enhance the student's voice. |
| Proficient (Pf) | • Words and expressions are often used accurately.
|                | • Specific words and expressions are frequently used to create images and/or to add clarity to details.
|                | • Words and expressions are descriptive and often enhance the student’s voice. |
| Satisfactory (S) | • Words and expressions are generally used appropriately.
|                  | • General words and expressions are used adequately to clarify meaning.
|                  | • Words and expressions sometimes enhance the student’s voice. |
| Limited (L) | • Words and expressions generally convey only vague meanings.
|             | • Imprecise words and expressions predominate; specific words, if present, may be awkwardly used.
|             | • Words and expressions are basic and may detract from the student’s voice. |
| Poor (P) | • Words and expressions convey only vague meanings.
|           | • Overgeneralized words and expressions predominate; specific words, if present, are frequently misused.
|           | • Words and expressions are simple and/or obscure the student’s voice. |
| Insufficient (INS) | • The writing has been awarded an INS for Content. |
Conventions

When marking Conventions appropriate for Grade 6 narrative writing, the marker should consider the extent to which the writer has control of:

- mechanics (spelling, punctuation, capitalization, indentation for new speakers, etc.) and usage (subject–verb agreement, pronoun–antecedent agreement, etc.)
- clarity and flow of the communication

Proportion of error to length and complexity of response must be considered.

<table>

| Insufficient (INS) | The writing has been awarded an INS for Content. |

Student writing that has been identified as scribed is not awarded a score in Conventions.
Scoring Guides—Functional Writing

Content

When marking Content appropriate for Grade 6 functional writing, the marker should consider:

- effectiveness of development and organization of the news article
- whether the purpose of the assignment is fulfilled with complete and appropriate information
- appropriateness of tone for the assignment and awareness of audience is evident

<table>

Note: Content and Content Management are equally weighted.

Please advise students that their work must relate to the assignment. Those assignments that are completely off topic will be awarded a mark of Insufficient.
Content Management

When marking Content Management appropriate for Grade 6 functional writing, the marker should consider

- accuracy and effectiveness of words and expressions
- control of sentence structures, usage, and mechanics (spelling, punctuation, etc.)
- clarity and flow of the communication

Proportion of error to length and complexity of response must be considered.

Part B: Reading

Part B: Reading of the Grade 6 English Language Provincial Arts Achievement Test requires students to read selections that include a variety of informational, narrative, poetic, and visual media texts. In total, there are 50 multiple-choice questions based on the selections.

Preparing Students for the Grade 6 English Language Arts Provincial Achievement Test

Suggestions for preparing students

The best way to prepare students for writing the provincial achievement test is to teach the curriculum well and to ensure that students know what is expected. Many of the skills and attitudes that support test writing are, in fact, good skills and strategies for approaching all kinds of learning tasks.

Teachers are encouraged to familiarize their students with the format of both Part A: Writing and Part B: Reading using released materials from previously secured tests are available on the Alberta Education website under the Subject area resources heading.

All Part B: Reading Readings and Questions test booklets are secured and must be returned to Alberta Education.

All unused or extra Grade 6 English Language Arts Part A: Writing test booklets are released following the May administration of the test and may be kept at the school.

Special-format practice tests

To give students an opportunity to practise provincial achievement test-style questions and content in Braille, audio, large print, or coloured print versions, Alberta Education produces special-format practice tests for all subjects that have a provincial achievement test. Alberta schools with registered Alberta K–12 students may place orders for these tests. Braille versions are available in English and, by request, in French. All tests are provided free of charge, but limits may be placed on order volumes to ensure access for all students.

For the greatest benefit, special-format practice tests should be written under conditions similar to those of the corresponding provincial achievement test. The same rules regarding the use of resources and devices should be followed.

Braille versions must be returned to Alberta Education after use.

Suggestions for writing the test

Part A: Writing

• Plan your time carefully. Use all the time available to you to read the assignment carefully and to think about what you are being asked to do; to plan your writing so that it is focused, unified, and coherent; and to proofread your writing.

• Read and listen to all the instructions carefully and do what the assignments ask you to do. The time you spend reading and thinking about the assignments is time well spent. Many students find that highlighting or underlining key words in the assignments helps them to focus on what is expected.

• Plan your writing using the pages provided. You should choose a planning strategy that helps you to focus your ideas.

• Use your reference materials. You are allowed to use print versions of a commercially published dictionary and a commercially published thesaurus when writing Part A only. Use a dictionary to look up the meanings of words that you want to use but are not completely sure about and to ensure that you spell words correctly. Use a thesaurus to find a more precise word for the context you are developing, but be careful not to overuse a thesaurus.

• Keep in mind the characteristics of effective writing.
  - Awareness of audience (appropriateness of tone and use of correct language)
  - Completeness of information (enough detail to fulfill purpose)
  - Relevance of information (all details pertain to the purpose)
  - Clarity of information (all details are specific and easily understood by the reader)

• Proofread your work and correct errors directly on your first draft. You should double-space your writing in order to allow you to make corrections more easily.
Part B: Reading

- You may not use a dictionary, a thesaurus, or other reference materials when writing Part B.
- Read each selection and think about each question.
- Read the material using the strategy that works best for you. You should either
  - read the selection and think carefully about it before you try any of the multiple-choice questions associated with the reading selection
  OR
  - read the questions first and then read the selection, keeping in mind the questions you will need to answer
- Each set of multiple-choice questions is designed to take you back through the reading selection in a certain way. The questions are ordered according to the location of the answers in the passage. For example, the answer to the first question will likely appear near the beginning of the passage, and so on. Questions relating to the reading selection as a whole will appear at the end of the set of questions.
- Consider all forms of information provided. Information will be presented not only in words but also in visual forms, such as cartoons, pictures, or charts.
- Take the time to reread the lines that are referred to in a question. Many questions contain quotations from the selection with line references indicated. It is always worthwhile to reread the lines that are referenced and to consider the meanings of these lines in both their immediate context in the selection and the context of the selection as a whole.
- When answering “best answer” questions, be sure to carefully read all four alternatives (A, B, C, and D) before choosing the answer that you think is best. These questions will always include a boldfaced qualifier such as best, most strongly, or most clearly in their stems. All the alternatives (A, B, C, and D) are, to some degree, correct, but one of the alternatives will be “best” in that it takes more of the information into account or can be supported most strongly by reference to the information.
- Work from partial knowledge when it is appropriate to do so. Read all the choices and see which one best fits the answer. If a correct or best answer does not become obvious fairly quickly, you may want to eliminate the answers that seem least appropriate and then use your judgment to select an answer from those that remain.
- Double-check to make sure that you have answered every multiple-choice question.
Opportunities to Participate in Test-development Activities

Field testing

All provincial achievement test questions are field tested before use. By “testing” the test questions, students who write field tests have an opportunity for a practice run at answering questions that could be used on future provincial achievement tests. As well, the teachers have an opportunity to comment on the appropriateness and quality of the test questions.

Students also have an opportunity for a practice run at responding to Part A writing prompts. Their writing could be used to illustrate the standards for student writing for a future provincial achievement test.

Field tests for ELA Part A: Writing are not marked.

Through the online field-test request system, teachers can create and modify field-test requests and check the status of these requests. Information regarding the field-test process and the request system is available at Provincial Achievement Tests.

Once the completed requests are received by Provincial Assessment staff, classes will be selected to ensure that a representative and sufficiently large sample of students from across the province take part in the field test. Every effort will be made to place field tests as requested; however, because field tests are administered to a prescribed number of students, it may not be possible to fill all requests.

Working groups

Teacher involvement in the development of provincial achievement tests is important because it helps to ensure the validity and appropriateness of the assessments.

Teacher working groups are used throughout the test-development process to create raw forms of test questions and to review and revise draft forms of provincial achievement tests. These working groups usually meet for one or two days, two or three times per year. Occasionally, these meetings are held on weekends.

To be eligible to serve on a test-development working group, a teacher must currently be teaching the course in question or must have taught the course within the past three years.

Teachers participating in working groups are selected from the working-group nominees approved by superintendents of school jurisdictions. The call for nominations usually occurs in September. However, we will accept further nominations throughout the year. In some subjects, more teachers may be nominated for working groups than are needed. When teachers are selected, there must be a balance of first-time and experienced working-group members and regional representation by zone, school authority, and school. Unfortunately, not everyone whose name is submitted will be selected.

Part A: Writing

To the Teacher:

Read this page and pages 1, 11, and 12 to your students. Students may remove the tear-out pages (Narrative and Functional Writing assignment prompts) to refer to while they do their planning and writing.

Description

Part A: Writing consists of two sections.

• Section I: Narrative Writing
  This section has a picture prompt for you to respond to in writing. You should take about 70 minutes to complete Section I.

• Section II: Functional Writing
  This section describes a situation to which you must respond in the format of a news article. You should take about 40 minutes to complete Section II.

Instructions

• You may use the following print references:
  – a dictionary (English and/or bilingual)
  – a thesaurus

• Jot down your ideas and/or make a plan before you write. Do this on the Planning pages.

• Write in pencil, or blue or black ink, on the lined pages provided.

• You are to do only one handwritten copy of your writing.

• When you have completed the test, please answer the survey question on the inside of the back cover.

NOTE: The tear-out pages must be returned at the end of the test. Insert these pages inside the back cover of the writing booklet.

Additional Instructions for Students Using Word Processors

• Format your work using an easy-to-read 12-point or larger font, such as Times.

• Double-space your final printed copy.

• Staple your printed work to the page indicated for word-processed work for each assignment. Hand in all work.

Time: 2 hours. You have up to 4 hours to complete this test should you need it.

2022

Do not write your name anywhere in this booklet.

You may make corrections and revisions directly on your written work.

Part B: Reading

To the Teacher:

Read these instructions to your students.

Description

• In this test, there are ?? different readings, consisting of stories, articles, cartoons, excerpts, or poems. There are 50 multiple-choice questions about these readings.

• To help you answer the questions, every fifth line of the selected reading passages is numbered.

Time: 1 hour. You have up to 2 hours to complete this test should you need it.

Instructions

• Turn to the last page of the test booklet. Carefully fold and tear out the machine-scored answer sheet along the perforation.

• You may not use a dictionary or a thesaurus.

• Read each story, article, cartoon, excerpt, or poem carefully.

• Make sure that the number of the question on your answer sheet matches the number of the question you are answering.

• Read each question carefully, and choose the correct or best answer.

Example

A rose is

A. a fruit
B. a flower
C. an animal
D. an automobile

Answer Sheet

• Use only an HB pencil to mark your answer.

• If you change an answer, erase your first mark completely.

• Try to answer every question.

• When you have completed the test, please answer the survey question, which appears after the last test question.

You may write in this booklet if you find it helpful. Make sure that your answers are placed on the answer sheet.

Examples of Descriptions Used in Audio Versions of the Grade 6 English Language Arts Provincial Achievement Test

This appendix has been prepared by the Provincial Assessment Sector of Alberta Education. Its purpose is to provide school staff with examples of the descriptions of diagrams, illustrations, and other visuals used in provincial achievement test audio versions, which are available to students as an accommodation. These examples are neither exhaustive nor prescriptive. Test content is shown in black text and descriptions in blue text.

For students who are enrolled with a school, and who typically use audio for their coursework, no application is required to receive this accommodation when writing provincial achievement tests. Such students may have visual impairments, physical disabilities, or learning disabilities. The audio version is used by students in conjunction with a print, digital, or Braille version of the test.

Part A: Writing

For text instructions for the Narrative Writing Assignment, all text printed on the page is read aloud and any font details, such as bold print or italics, are identified and all instructions are read in their entirety. For the Functional Writing Assignment, the instructions, situation, assignment, news, and article notes are read in their entirety.

Part B: Reading

Each reading selection and its creator is identified and read in its entirety. Footnotes and line notes, if applicable, are identified at the beginning of each reading selection and repeated at their labelled placement within the reading selection. Reading selections are read without excessive emphasis or dramatization. Each set of questions accompanying a reading selection is read after the reading selection is read in its entirety. When specified lines within the reading selection are referenced within a given question, these lines are repeated prior to reading the question.

Special-format practice tests are available from Alberta Education for those students who wish to familiarize themselves with standard audio versions of Alberta Education tests.
Example of Scripting Notes

Part A: Writing
Narrative Writing Assignment
The following description represents the actual audio recording for an illustration that was provided as a narrative writing prompt on an actual ELA6 Provincial Achievement Test. The illustration is not included here because of copyright constraints.

Read the entire instruction page (the instruction pages in Grade 6 PATs should be read aloud to ALL students in the class).

Read all of Page 1 (all of page 1 should be read aloud to ALL students).

What follows is the scripting for the Narrative Writing Assignment:

Listen to the description of the picture on page 2:

There is a large wooden platform surrounded by calm blue water. There are some small boats nearby. There are a number of children and adults on the platform, along with a dog. On the platform there appears to be a wooden shack and a gasoline pump. There is an extremely large, green dinosaur-like creature leaning its head over the platform. Its long neck leads into the water. The creature’s eyes are drooping downwards. One child, who is wearing an orange life jacket, is standing beside the creature’s face, with their hand on the creature. The child is smiling and looking towards all of the other people. Another small child is reaching their arm forward to touch the creature on its nose. Everyone else, including the dog, is looking towards the creature.

Functional Writing Assignment
The following assignment is a reproduction of how the actual pages from a provincial achievement test were read. The blue text is read, in addition to the black text on the page, as supplemental information for students.
Section II: Functional Writing (Suggested time—40 minutes)

Listen to the situation below and complete the assignment that follows.

The Situation

Your name is Taylor Greene and you attend Kindler Elementary School. You are a reporter for your school’s newspaper. Last week, your class visited a dark-sky preserve at night. Dark-sky preserves are areas away from cities that have very little artificial light pollution, such as light from streetlights. This makes it much darker and easier to see and observe objects in the night sky. You made notes and did additional research. Now you are ready to write your news article.

Assignment

Write a news article for your school newspaper that will inform the readers about dark-sky preserves. Use the information from your trip and your additional research to complete your news article.

When writing your news article, be sure to

- provide readers with information that will support the purpose of the news article
- use a style of writing appropriate for a news article
- use a style of writing appropriate for the audience

Use the information provided on page 12 to assist you as you write your news article.

Turn to page 13 to plan your writing. Begin writing your news article on page 14.

Accompanying the text are two photographs.

The photograph on the left shows a dark night sky with a bright, full moon, but no visible stars. Below, is a city with a lot of lights from streetlamps, cars, and buildings shining brightly. The caption for the photograph reads “Night sky in a city.” The photograph on the right shows the night sky with the outline of a forest of trees around it. The sky is bright with many stars and the Milky Way is visible in the centre of the photograph. The caption for the photograph reads “Night sky in a dark-sky preserve.”

Selection 8. Listen to the following selection and answer questions 43 to 47.

SNOW HOUSES

Today, most Canadians live in houses with central heating. When the temperature outside begins to drop, the thermostat inside the house can be adjusted to increase the heat. But imagine if you lived long ago in what is now northern Canada—how would you protect yourself from the harsh winter environment?

The Inuit of Canada’s north call their traditional winter homes iglu (the word ‘iglu’ is written in italics), meaning “snow house.” This is where the term igloo comes from. The igloo was invented centuries ago by Inuit hunters to survive in the extreme winter weather. It was a quick and easy shelter for a skilled hunter to build. Today, some Inuit still use igloos as temporary shelters, but they are much less common than fifty years ago. The most common type of igloo is a dome-shaped structure built from large blocks of snow.

How can something made of snow be used as a shelter from the cold? Snow happens to be a great insulator, that’s how! This means heat inside an igloo (the word ‘igloo’ is written in italics)—from body heat or from a small lantern—stays inside the igloo. In fact, the temperature inside an igloo can be up to 20 degrees Celsius warmer than the temperature outside. As well, the igloo walls block the fierce winds common to the North.

The type of snow used to make an igloo is not the same type used to make a snowman. To make an igloo, snow must be hard-packed—the soft, powdery stuff just won’t work. If the snow is too wet and sticky, that’s not good either. So, if the next snowstorm you get produces the right kind of snow, grab some friends and an adult and build your very own “snow house”!

There is a photograph of a person stacking blocks of snow into a round igloo shape.
Question 43 refers to the second paragraph, which reads:

The Inuit of Canada’s north call their traditional winter homes iglu, meaning “snow house.” This is where the term igloo comes from. The igloo was invented centuries ago by Inuit hunters to survive in the extreme winter weather. It was a quick and easy shelter for a skilled hunter to build. Today, some Inuit still use igloos as temporary shelters, but they are much less common than fifty years ago. The most common type of igloo is a dome-shaped structure built from large blocks of snow.

Question

43. The best heading for the second paragraph would be

A. Types of Snow
B. Canadian Winters
C. History of the Igloo
D. Fun Winter Activities

Question 44 refers to the third paragraph, which reads:

How can something made of snow be used as a shelter from the cold? Snow happens to be a great insulator, that’s how! This means heat inside an igloo—from body heat or from a small lantern—stays inside the igloo. In fact, the temperature inside an igloo can be up to 20 degrees Celsius warmer than the temperature outside. As well, the igloo walls block the fierce winds common to the North.

Question

44. Which of the following research questions can be answered by the information in the third paragraph?

A. When were igloos first invented?
B. Why does an igloo keep people warm?
C. How long does it take to build an igloo?
D. How much snow is needed to build an igloo?
Question 45 refers to the fourth paragraph, which reads:

The type of snow used to make an igloo is not the same type used to make a snowman. To make an igloo, snow must be hard-packed—the soft, powdery stuff just won’t work. If the snow is too wet and sticky, that’s not good either. So, if the next snowstorm you get produces the right kind of snow, grab some friends and an adult and build your very own “snow house”!

Question
45. The main purpose of the fourth paragraph is to

   A. list the tools necessary to build an igloo
   B. provide instructions on how to build an igloo
   C. describe the type of snow used to build an igloo
   D. compare building an igloo to building a snowman

Question
46. The most likely reason that hard-packed snow is the best type of snow for building an igloo is that it

   A. is easy to find
   B. does not weigh much
   C. can be cut into blocks
   D. allows sunlight to enter the igloo

Question
47. Why was snow most likely the Inuit peoples’ best choice for constructing shelters?

   A. Snow was used to preserve the supply of trees.
   B. Snow was a widely available building material.
   C. Snow blocks were easily transported to new locations.
   D. Snow helped igloos blend into the natural surroundings.
