Personal overview/ Professional philosophy

Adam O. Letourneau, QC is an experienced arbitrator and mediator with over a decade in the alternative dispute field. He is the managing partner of a law firm, called to the bar in 2006, and was awarded the designations of Chartered Arbitrator (C.Arb) in 2012 and Chartered Mediator (C.Med) in 2011. He was appointed as Queen's Counsel in 2015. He was awarded a post-graduate law degree in International Dispute Resolution in 2015. Adam is also part of the Faculty at the Dhillon School of Business at the University of Lethbridge, teaching law and negotiation related courses. As a former Bencher (Governor) of the Law Society, he has conducted many disciplinary hearings and written decisions as a chair or tribunal member.

Adam has conducted a large number of mediations, arbitrations and Med/Arb in a variety of dispute matters including civil matters, employment, labour, commercial matters and family law matters. He is also an experienced litigator in a variety of legal areas. Arbitration and mediation are a major part of his legal practice, and he enjoys that work very much. Adam is willing to travel all around Alberta and Canada and internationally.

Adam is a member of ADR Institute of Canada, serving as the Chair of the designations committee, a member of ADR Institute of Alberta, serving as the Chair of the Arbitrations designation committee, and also a former director. He is also currently a director of the Canadian Institute for the Administration of Justice.
