Determination of Regained Capacity

(Section 10.1(1)) - Schedule 4

Part 1

(To be used after a personal directive is in effect when an agent of the maker notices a significant change in the maker’s capacity and a service provider who provides health care services agrees that the maker has regained the capacity to make decisions about personal matters.)

“capacity” means the ability to understand the information that is relevant to the making of a personal decision and the ability to appreciate the reasonably foreseeable consequences of the decision (s1(b) of the Personal Directives Act).

“significant change” means an observable and sustained improvement that does not appear to be temporary (s1(o) of the Personal Directives Act).

The maker, ____________________________________, has a personal directive that is in effect with respect to the following personal matters:

- health care
- accommodation
- with whom to live and associate
- participation in social activities
- participation in educational activities
- participation in employment activities
- legal matters
- other: ____________________________________

I, ____________________________________________, am designated in the maker’s personal directive as an agent with authority to make personal decisions for the following personal matters:

- health care
- accommodation
- with whom to live and associate
- participation in social activities
- participation in educational activities
- participation in employment activities
- legal matters
- other: ____________________________________

I spoke with the maker, ____________________________________, about whether he/she has regained capacity to make personal decisions. (Required)

I spoke with ____________________________________, a service provider who has recently provided a health care service to the maker, about whether the maker has regained capacity to make personal decisions. (Required)

I spoke with ____________________________________, other agents named in the personal directive about whether the maker has regained capacity to make personal decisions. (Optional)
I have reviewed health or other records about the maker that are relevant to my assessment of the maker’s capacity, and have discussed the records with __________________________, the maker’s physician or other health care practitioner.

I have considered recent statements or recommendations made by __________________________ health care practitioners who were consulted about the maker’s capacity. (Optional)

In assessing whether the maker has regained capacity:

1. □ I have observed a significant change in the maker’s capacity,
   OR
   □ I am satisfied that __________________________ a service provider who provides health care services to the maker, has observed a significant change in the maker’s capacity.
   (One of the above is required)

2. □ I have considered statements or other evidence provided by __________________________ a service provider, agent or other person, that corroborate that there has been a change in the maker’s capacity to make personal decisions. (Required)

Details respecting the statements or other evidence I considered are as follows:
