Completing the Tourism Levy Return

Instruction Guide

Last updated: June 21, 2021

NOTE: This Instruction Guide is intended to provide assistance when completing the tourism levy return online. Every effort has been made to ensure the contents are accurate. However, if a discrepancy should occur in interpretation between this Instruction Guide and governing legislation, the legislation takes precedence.

Completing the Tourism Levy Return Instruction Guide

The following instructions focus on the steps to be followed when filing a return electronically in Tax and Revenue Client Self-Service (TRACS). However, the line items and information required in the return are the same if filing by paper, so both electronic and paper filers can reference this guide.

Who must complete a tourism levy return?

An entity that sells, offers for sale or otherwise provides temporary accommodation in Alberta is required to file a return for a specified collection period (i.e., monthly or quarterly).

The entity must be registered and have a tourism levy account with Tax and Revenue Administration before a return can be filed. More information is available at How to register and/or the Tourism Levy Registration Instruction Guide.

Filing frequency

Returns are required to be filed each month or calendar quarter (e.g., January 1 to March 31) dependent on the number of sleeping rooms rented or available for rent:

- Monthly: 50 or more sleeping rooms available for rent
- Quarterly: less than 50 sleeping rooms available for rent

Operators (e.g., hotel, motel, inn, etc.) are registered by location or establishment:

- If an operator rents or offers for rent 50 or more sleeping rooms for each facility, monthly returns are required.
- If an operator rents or offers for rent less than 49 or less rooms for each facility, quarterly returns are required.

Accommodation hosts (i.e., offering temporary accommodation in a residential unit) the filing frequency depends on total number of sleeping rooms available for rent in all residential units:

- If an accommodation host rents or offers for rent 50 or more sleeping rooms for all residential units, monthly returns are required.
- If an accommodation host rents or offers for rent 49 or less sleeping rooms for all residential units, quarterly returns are required.

When is a return required to be filed?

Due date:

TRA must receive your return on or before the 28th day after the end of each collection period. For example, a return for the January to March calendar quarter is due on or before April 28.

If the due date falls on a weekend or holiday, the next business day becomes the due date. For example, August 28, 2021, falls on a Saturday, so the due date becomes the next business date, Monday, August 30, 2021.

Nil returns:

Operators (e.g., hotel, motel, inn, etc.) are required to file a return whether or not any accommodation was provided or purchased during the period. A 'nil' return, one where all the return line items are '0,' is still required to be filed on time.

Accommodation hosts (i.e., residential units) are only required to file a return when accommodation was provided or purchased during a collection period. A 'nil' return, one where all the return line items are '0,' is not required to be filed.

General instructions

- If you registered on or after April 1, 2021, returns must be filed electronically online using Tax and Revenue Administration Client Self-Service \(TRACS\).
- If you registered prior to April 1, 2021, you may file returns either on paper or electronically, but you are encouraged to transition to electronic filing as soon as possible. If you require assistance, email TourismLevy@gov.ab.ca.
- Upon receiving your return, TRA will:
 - ensure the return is complete;
 - contact you for more information (if required); and
 - issue a notice of assessment if the return is assessed differently from what was submitted, interest and/or a penalty was charged, or there is an amount owing for the reporting period.
