

You don't have to share their genes to be their family.

Right now, there are a lot of children and youth in government care who need a permanent, loving home. If you have a stable home filled with love and have considered adopting, the time to become a family for a child in need is right now. Don't wait.

alberta.ca/adoption

Alberta